Practice Leader, Security Consulting, North America

Job purpose

We seek a seasoned operational security professional to join the Crisis Management and Security Consulting department. The department is responsible for working with clients on tasks that increase their organizational ability to mitigate security risks.

This role is responsible for performing security program evaluations, development and implementation. This includes all elements of corporate security program review and design including policy writing, procedure development and delivery of training solutions.

This role also includes performing security risk assessments and physical security reviews of client sites, and developing and implementing effective risk mitigation strategies and security solutions.

Tasks and responsibilities

Case work

- ▶ Deliver Control Risks' consultancy services to clients by developing innovative solutions to complex security related risks. You will be responsible for scoping and delivering projects across a broad range of security domains including activities such as risk workshops, program reviews (including but not limited to executive protection, event security, investigations, physical security, travel security), gap analysis, program and organizational design, development and implementation, and presentations.
- ▶ Conduct site security assessments by evaluating location-based and site-specific risks, and reviewing the security footprint of physical protection systems, guard force operations, security policies and procedures, etc
- ▶ Actively lead on projects from first client enquiry to proposal development, task servicing, quality assurance and project closure

Business Development

- ▶ Continuously enhance client relationships through excellent delivery of projects, wherever possible in close cooperation with the various other departments in Control Risks.
- ▶ Pro-actively seek opportunities to develop projects and business.
- ▶ Contribute to marketing and profile raising events including public speaking engagements.

Knowledge and experience

Essential

- ▶ Demonstrated success in global security in a corporate or "in-house" setting or a security risk management consulting role.
- ▶ Proven ability to successfully deliver quality solutions including written and oral delivery of training and presentations.
- ▶ Proven ability conducting business development. Able to build good relationships with senior executives with non-security backgrounds, in addition to client security managers.

Preferred

- ▶ Experience in reviewing, designing, developing and implementing corporate security programs.
- ▶ Experience in and knowledge of corporate security policies and procedures.
- ▶ Familiarity with travel security, executive protection, event security, supply chain security and/or security investigations.

Qualifications and specialist skills

- ▶ Bachelor's degree
- ▶ Fluent in English (written and spoken)
- ▶ Excellent presentation skills
- ▶ Excellent analytical skills
- ▶ Excellent project management skills
- ▶ Excellent time management skills
- ▶ Experienced with Microsoft Office, inclusive of Word, PowerPoint and Excel (Visio preferred)
- ▶ Strong team player with the ability and willingness to respond to unexpected developments quickly, and with strong ability to prioritize efficiently

Behaviors

All employees are expected to display behaviors reflective of our company values: Integrity and Ethics, Collaboration and Teamwork, Commitment to People and Professionalism and Excellence.
