Strategic intelligence and security for a changing world

In a changing world, we make the difference

Control Risks is a global strategic intelligence and security firm that is trusted by 80% of the Fortune 500 and over 60% of the Fortune Global 500.

For more than 50 years we have helped organisations anticipate risk, protect people, assets and reputation, and pursue opportunity – from the boardroom to the most complex and high-risk environments.

From advice to delivery, we operate seamlessly across the digital and physical domains, wherever our clients need us.

At Control Risks, crisis management is in our DNA. We bring strategies to help you avoid crises and build the capability to confront them. And when crisis comes, no one matches our ability to help you respond and emerge stronger.

We are a global team of experts, driven by a passion to help the world's most dynamic and ambitious organisations succeed.

How we help

Strategic Intelligence

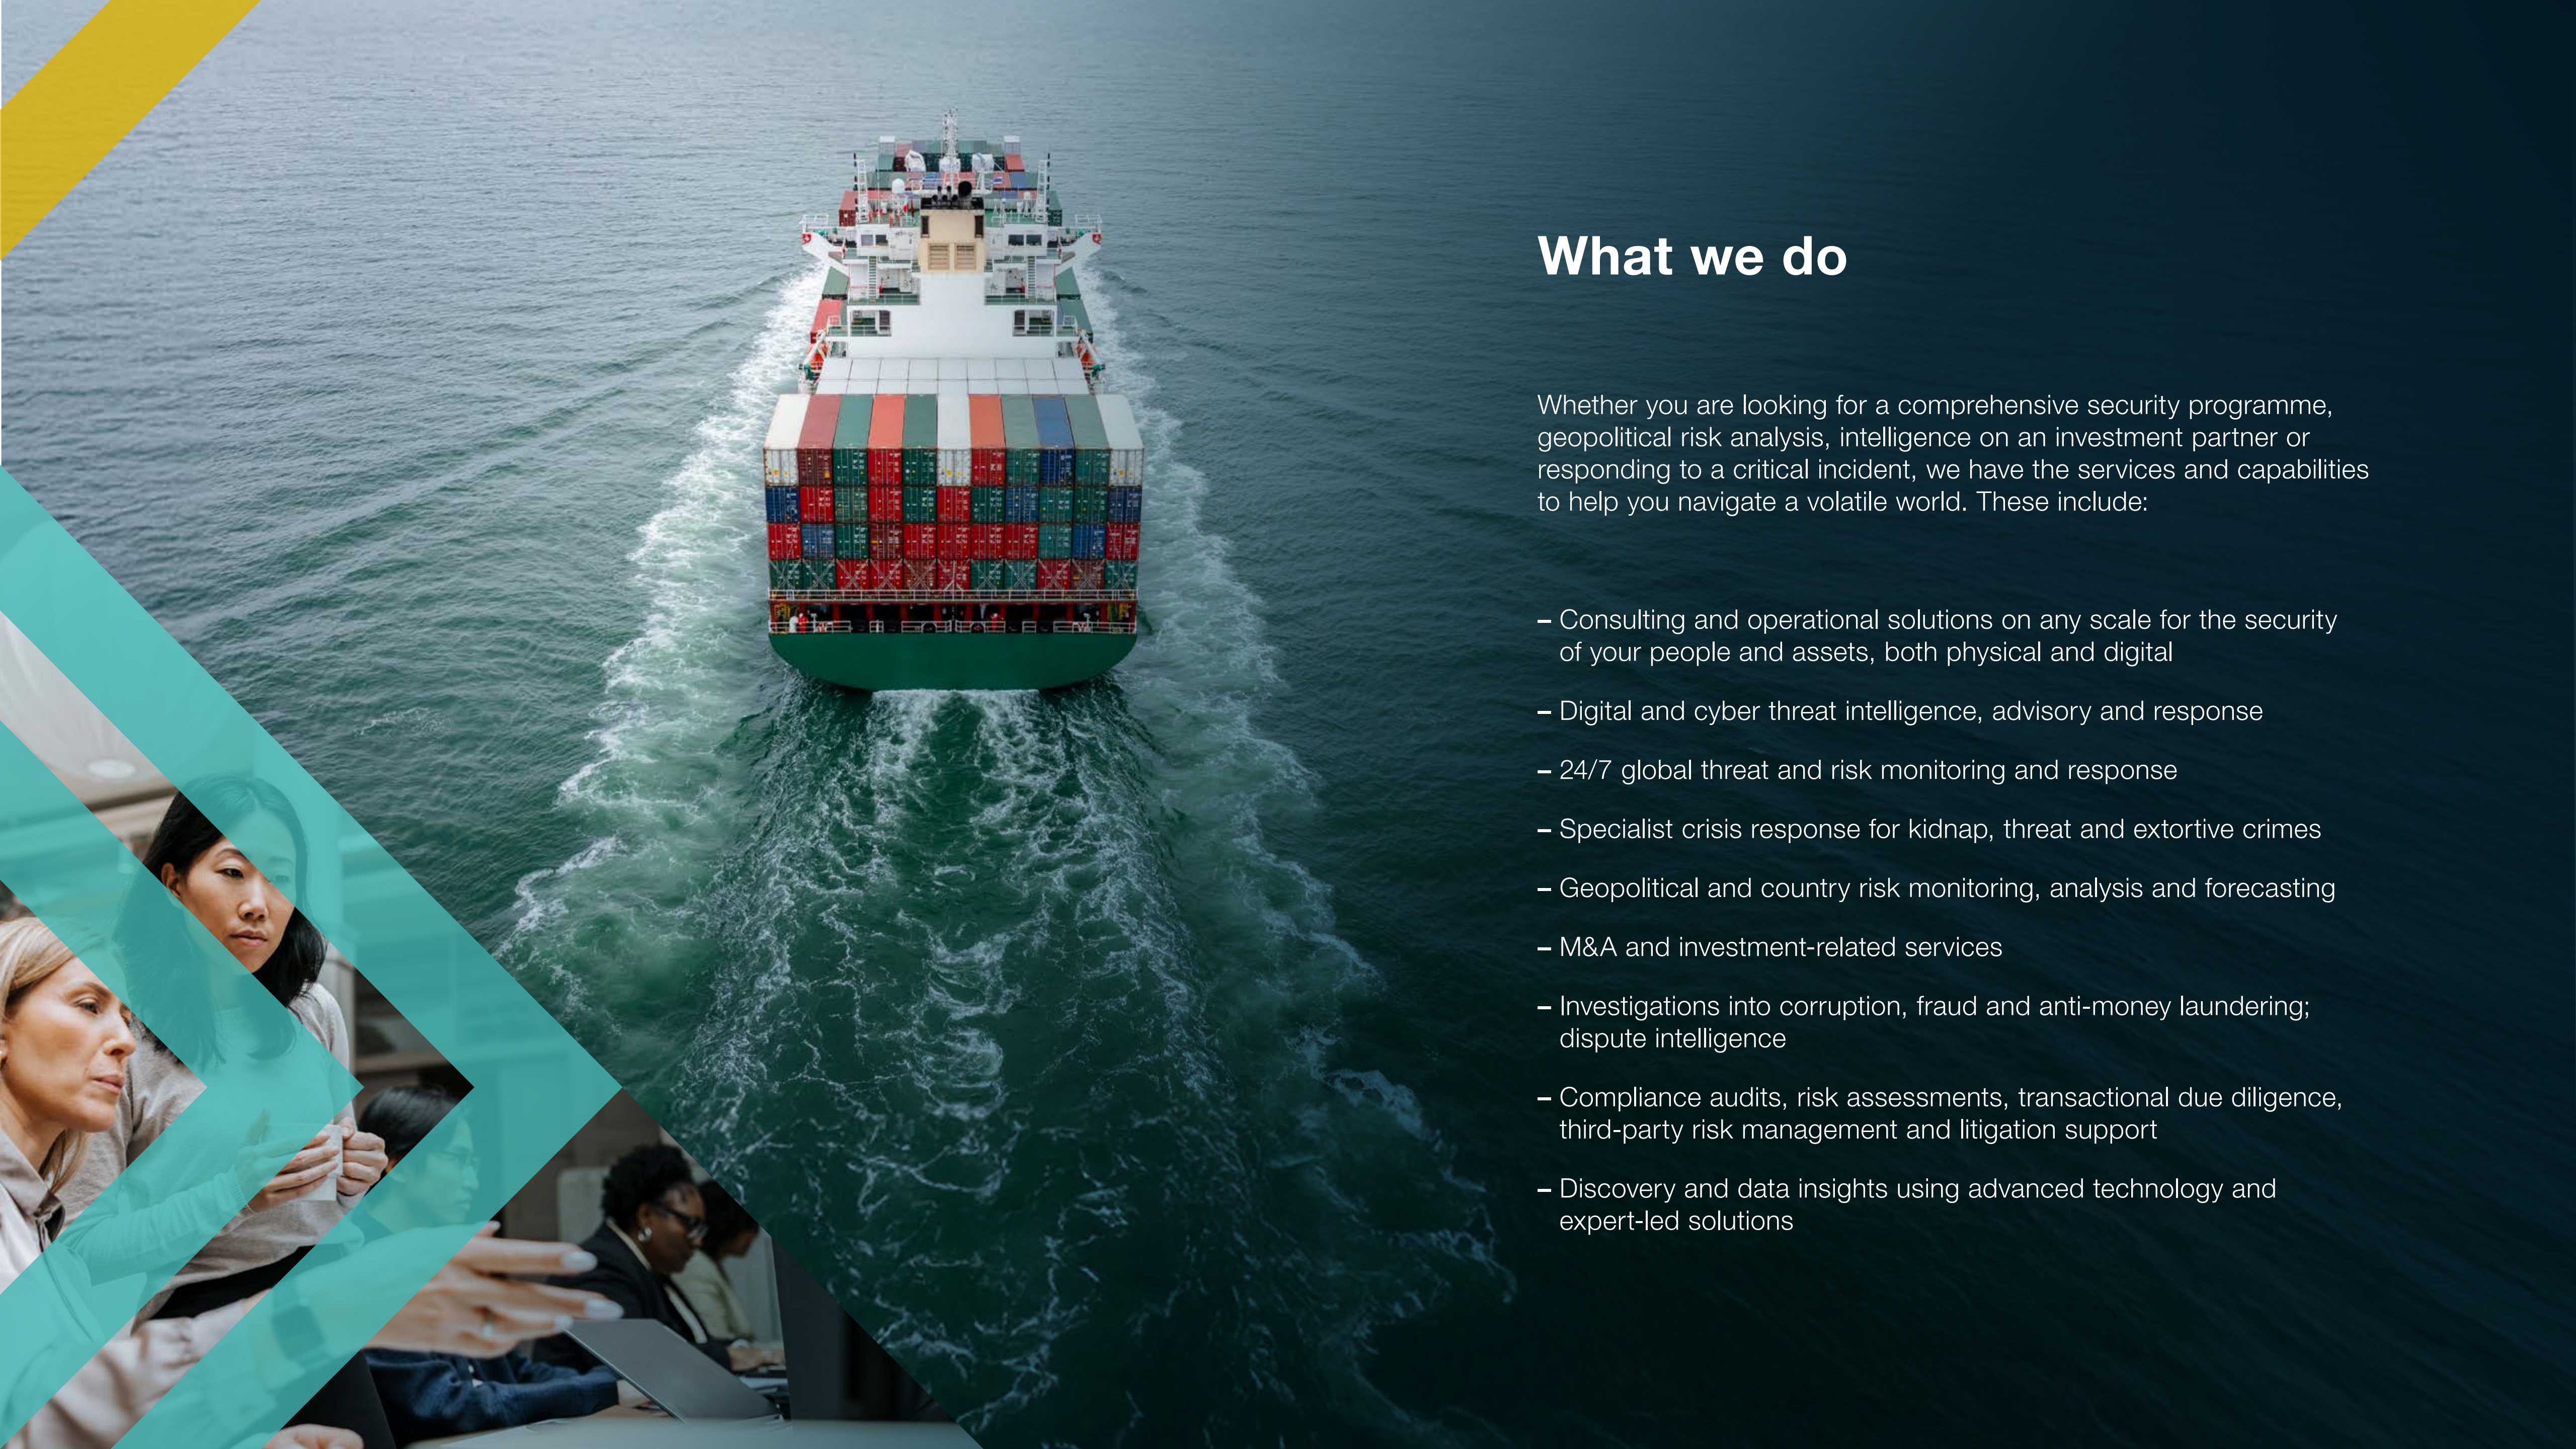

Strategic intelligence helps you understand global developments – geopolitical, regulatory, commercial and security – and the links between them. Combined with analysis grounded in real world dynamics, it enables you to anticipate change, identify opportunities, manage risks and shape your future.

Backed by the largest team of geopolitical analysts in the world, we forecast the shifts and disruptions that affect commercial outcomes for your organisation and provide clear, practical advice on how to respond. Strategic intelligence from Control Risks brings clarity and confidence to your decisions.

Global Security

Threats are dynamic, hybrid, and increasingly personal. From organised crime to political unrest, natural disasters or online threats with real-world consequences: the need for resilience has never been greater. We help organisations prevent, prepare for, and respond to security threats to their people, assets and reputation.

In Control Risks you have a global partner uniquely positioned to deliver this capability across the world, combining real-time insight with operational agility. We give you the foresight to protect and the confidence to proceed.

What we do

Whether you are looking for a comprehensive security programme, geopolitical risk analysis, intelligence on an investment partner or responding to a critical incident, we have the services and capabilities to help you navigate a volatile world. These include:

- Consulting and operational solutions on any scale for the security of your people and assets, both physical and digital
- Digital and cyber threat intelligence, advisory and response
- 24/7 global threat and risk monitoring and response
- Specialist crisis response for kidnap, threat and extortion crimes
- Geopolitical and country risk monitoring, analysis and forecasting
- M&A and investment-related services
- Investigations into corruption, fraud and anti-money laundering; dispute intelligence
- Compliance audits, risk assessments, transactional due diligence, third-party risk management and litigation support
- Discovery and data insights using advanced technology and expert-led solutions

A heritage in risk

Our breadth of capabilities, the depth of our experience and global reach mean we bring what others can't: a true end-to-end service from advice to execution honed over 50 years in business.

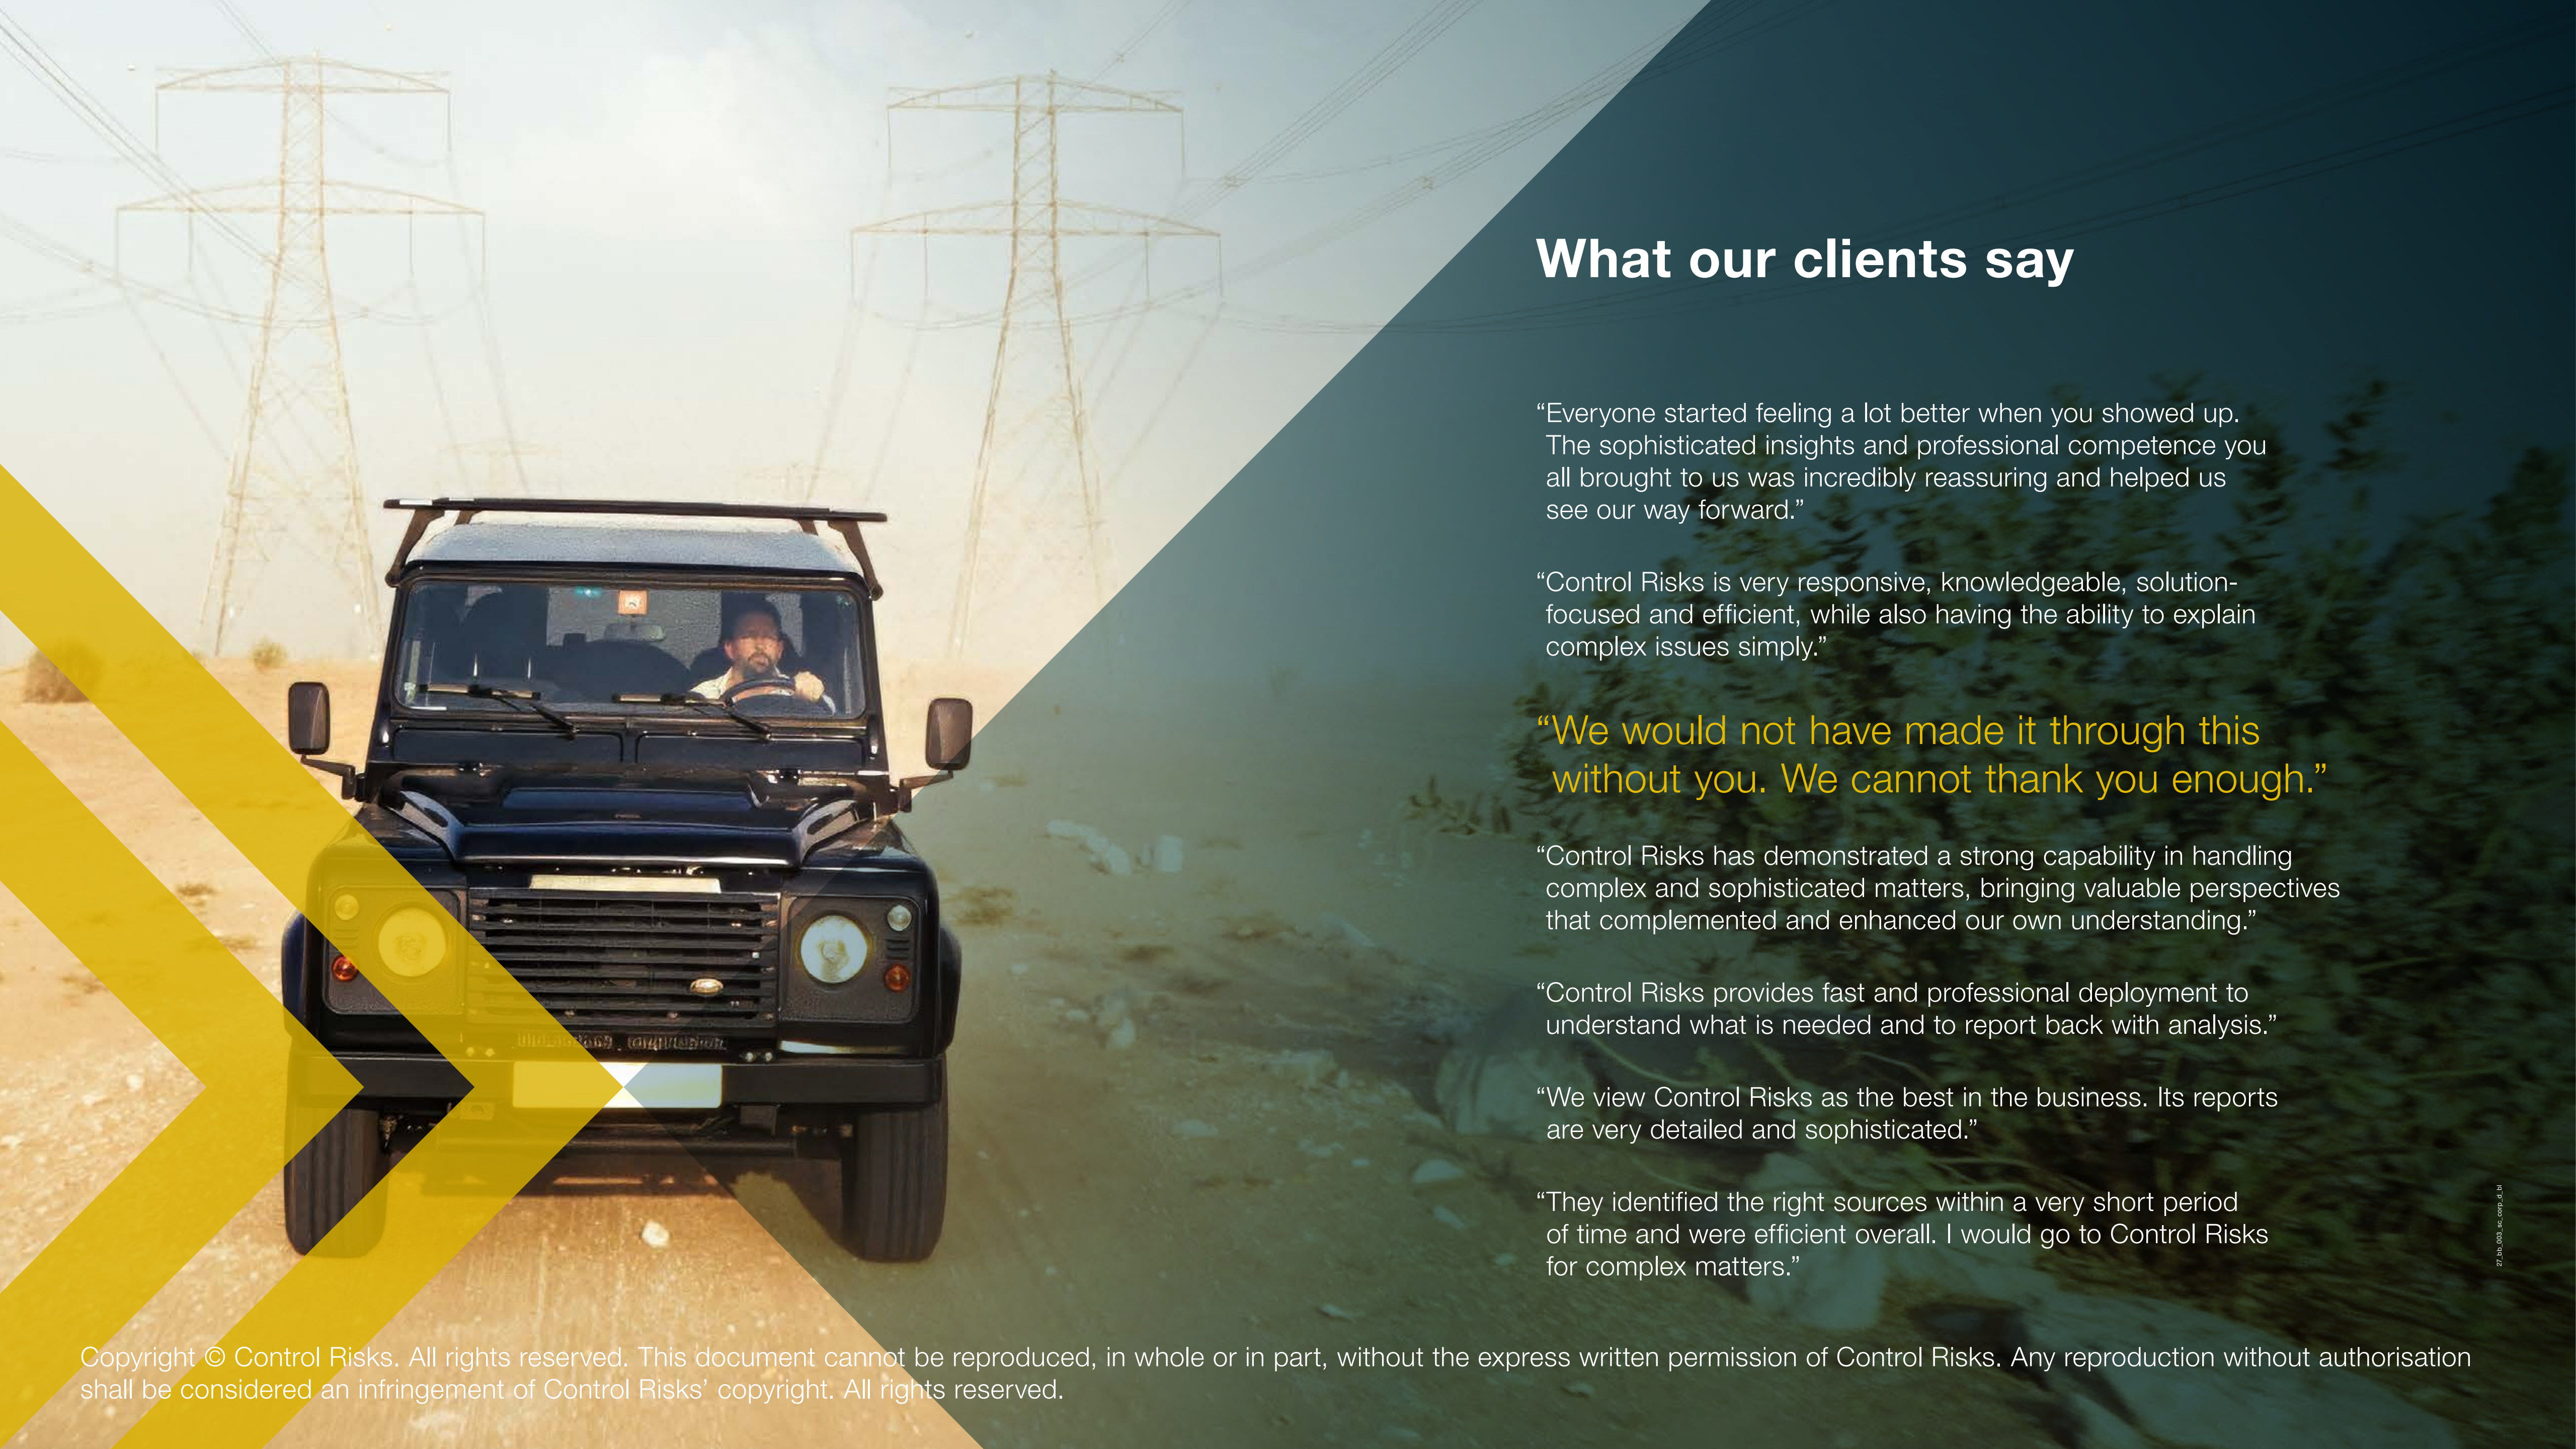

From responding to kidnap in Latin America to terrorist attacks in Africa, to helping clients weather the fall of the Berlin Wall, successive Gulf Wars and 9/11, and enabling them to capitalise on the rise of China and digitalisation, we've been there.

A truly global capability

With decades of on the ground experience in 178 countries, our consulting and response teams blend human and technological expertise to bring solutions wherever you need them, 24/7.

Working from our global network spanning more than 40 offices, our experts collaborate across disciplines and geographies. We attract talent from a broad range of professional experience, including military, law enforcement, intelligence services, cyber, political science, law, accounting and engineering.

No challenge is the same, and with Control Risks, you get the expertise you need, from designing strategies, to solving problems and delivering solutions.
